Customer Training

We build the best. We train the best.

WORLD-CLASS IN EVERY CLASS

At Bombardier Customer Training, every class is designed to enhance the knowledge and skills of world-class pilots and technicians. Whether studying at our facility in Montreal or Dallas, pilots and technicians benefit from comprehensive and personalized training in learning environments that are realistic, interactive and engaging.

In addition to initial type ratings and recurrent training, we also offer over 130 eLearning training courses and tailored company-unique training opportunities.

Nobody knows your aircraft better

We are the only business aircraft manufacturer to deliver wholly-owned pilot and maintenance training to its customers. You learn from the OEM that actually designed and built your aircraft.

Holistic training for complete success

We share the engineering and production expertise of our manufacturing facilities and transfer this knowledge to the training staff to ensure holistic learning.

Hands-on and human-based

You participate in interactive, human-based instruction and receive hands-on training from our highly experienced instructors.
